Bolster Levees In St. Louis Area In Flood Battle

Mississippi River Flood
Stage Is Reported Today
As Over Forty Feet

DAMAGE RUNS INTO MILLIONS

(BULLETIN)
ST. LOUIS, July 2.—
(INS)—Army engineers rallied their forces today to bolster weakened levees along a 90-mile front of the surging Mississippi river as flood waters continued to rise to new record highs.

Their new defense line extended along the Illinois side of the mighty river from East Carondelet to Gorham and Neut down stream.

Perry County, Mo., levees across from Chester, Ill., between Clary-ville and Menfro, Mo., still held but were regarded as critical points.
Soldiers and civilian workers were dispatched to the area to reinforce the levees with sandbags.

Engineers regarded Prairie Du Pont, Ill., as the most serious danger point. Residents were evacuated and a large part of a consignment of one million sandbags just received from the east was rushed to the community.

Steadily Rising Waters
The defense work was carried on against a background of steadily rising flood waters. The high point

Pa Newc Observes

June births at the New Castle Hospital totaled 59 infants for the month, with 31 male infants born and 28 female infants. During May 58 births were recorded, which doesn't much change the average for the two months.

This is a week when housewives are busy putting up and freezing peas against the winter eating season. One who shelled half a bushel Tuesday evening came out with ten pints for the frozen food locker.

***
Florence avenue almost became a main thoroughfare on Tuesday afternoon, during the excitement of the city bus accident. Traffic officers directed all east bound traffic over Florence avenue with the traffic traversing it and Superior street until Taylor street was reached.

***
Patrons on the Croton bus, who live beyond Cascade street, are benefiting greatly through the extension of the bus line. No longer do the residents have to trudge up the hill which leads to the city limits. A smooth turning point has been created on Hawthorne street.

***
Farmers along the highways are issuing last calls for strawberries.
Pa Newc observes. Many temporary markets have been set up along the roadside with motorists taking advantage of the reasonable prices offered by the producers.

***
The North street bridge still shows evidence of the high waters of the past winter. Debris still clings to the bottom of the bridge, having been lodged there by the swirling waters.

***
Porch swing sleeping and tent sleeping has become very popular in some sections of the city these hot evenings and nights. Most of the sleepers are made up of the younger folk of the family, who think it great sport to be sleeping in the great outdoors.

***
While many rose bushes in the city are done blooming, Pa Newc discovers that the roses on the trellis in front of his East Side home are just beginning to bloom.
Incidentally, the bushes are ones garnished from the old Boyles property on County Line street before the county took the property over.

(BULLETIN)
PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—
(INS)—Chief Magistrate John J. O'Malley held a 22-year-old youth without bail for the coroner today on charges of strangling Margaret C. Dougherty, 50, and cramming her body in an oil drum on a vacant lot.

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—(INS)
—A 22-year-old youth was held on a homicide charge today as police said he "confessed" to strangling Margaret C. Dougherty, 50, and several days before tossing it in a steel drum on a vacant lot.

Paris Parley Continuance Is Up To Molotov

(BULLETIN)
PARIS, July 2.—(INS)—The Anglo-French-Soviet Foreign Ministers Conference on U. S.
Secretary Marshall's European Self-Help Plan ended today at Paris.

PARIS, July 2.—(INS)—Conference circles said that the European Self-Help Parley in Paris may end abruptly today unless Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov comes out with a last-ditch counter-plan to stave off the collapse.

They considered a Russian move remote, however, and predicted a conference breakup with Molotov and the Anglo-French foreign ministers trying to blame each other for the impasse.

Wait Reaction
While French Foreign Minister
Bidault and British Foreign Secretary Bevin awaited the Kremlin's reaction to Bidault's "last effort" counter-proposals, observers were convinced this afternoon's session had scarcely any chance of success.
Likely Russian reaction to the Bidault plan was heralded this morning on the Soviet radio which condemned the Frenchman's latest recommendations as no different than the original French proposals.

PARIS, July 2.—(INS)—Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov delivered an unexpected counter-proposal to the Big Three meeting in Paris today.

He took an unprecedented step by instructing a Soviet press attache to distribute the text of his remarks at the entrance to the French foreign office even while the tottering European Self-Help Parley was in session.

Molotov's move apparently was to stave off charges that Soviet ob-structionism has been responsible for the meeting's lack of progress.

Landlords Study Rent Control Bill Before Taking Action

(International News Service)
Western Pennsylvania landlords today studied the federal rent law before taking advantage of the new increase provisions.

A majority of the hotels throughout the area said they were working out new rate schedules to "adjust inequities" now existing. Others said increase probably will be made August 1.

In Pittsburgh the Union Real Estate Co., which handles many of the city's larger apartment houses, said nothing will be done until April, 1948.

Many renters reported they filed voluntary agreements with their landlords, calling for a 15 per cent boost. Some landlords indicated they probably will wait for rent controls to end completely next February before taking any action.

New Coach To Be At Union Hi Meeting

high will be introduced to the assembly.

coaching duties this fall, of the football and basketball teams. The

CURLEY SEEKS PARDON

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(INS)—
The White House said today that President Truman is awaiting the justice department's recommendation on the pardon application of Mayor James M. Curley of Boston.

Presidential Secretary Charles G.
Ross said that Curley's plea for executive clemency still is being examined by the justice department.

POLICE RADIO SPEEDS ARREST

GREENVILLE, July 2.—Praises are being sung about the city and state police radio system, which has gotten its man again.

A car owned by M. M. McClure of Greenville was stolen at 6:55
p. m. Monday and the Greenville police in turn notified the state police at Mercer by radio. The Greenville substation radioed Butler where the alarm was rebroadcast to all cars in the district.

At 7:17 p. m. on route 19, the vehicle was spotted and James W.
Freeman of R. D. 1 was arrested as

President To Spend Fourth In Virginia

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(INS)—
President Truman today extended by a day the length of his Fourth of July visit to the home of Thomas Jefferson at Charlottesville, Va.

The White House announced that the president will leave Washington by automobile at 2 p. m. (EDT) tomorrow. He will remain in Charlottesville until Sunday morning when he will motor back to the White House.

Originally, Mr. Truman had planned to return to Washington Saturday morning. The White House said there was no reason for the extension beyond the fact that it would give the president a day's longer rest over the Fourth.

The chief executive will stay with members of his staff at the home of Stanley Woodward, chief of protocol for the state department. The Woodward home is about a mile from the Jefferson homestead.

Estimate 62,000 Are Made Idle

Production Workers Are Hit
By Coal Mine Situation
Of Present Time

PITTSBURGH, July 2.—(INS)—
An estimated 62,000 production workers were on enforced vacations today and others are scheduled for indefinite layoffs within a few days due to the nationwide coal shortage brought on by miners' protest strike and the current industry-wide vacation.

Operations at the Sharon Steel Co., Sharon and Farrell, Pa., will come to a standstill tonight, throwing about 3,000 out of jobs. The Sharon Furnace Co. at Sharpsville, Pa., has brought a halt to production with the banking of its second blast furnace.

Railroad Men Idle
About 5000 railroad men were idle throughout the heavy coal producing regions when mine run trains were discontinued and the crews sent home.

Previous layoffs included 10,000 steelworkers at the Carnegie-Illinois steel mills in the Pittsburgh-Youngstown area, 4000 more at the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., and the list of idle.

The automobile industry accounted for nearly 40,000 unemployed due to a shortage brought on by the coal crisis.

Start Probe In Airplane Disaster

LEESBURG, Va., July 2.—(INS)—
The Civil Aeronautics Board called 37 witnesses to Leesburg today in an effort to find out why a Capital Airlines DC-4 crashed into a nearby mountain June 13, carrying 50 persons to death.

The CAB hearing on the accident is expected to last two days, and everyone remotely connected with the crash will be examined.

The plane, bound for Chicago,
Cleveland and Pittsburgh to Washington, apparently flew into a Blue Ridge mountain at full speed in zero-zero weather. It struck approximately 150 feet from the top of a 1,650-foot ridge.

There were no known eyewitnesses to the disaster.

First Surplus Since 1930 In U. S. Treasury

Government Closes Fiscal Year 1947 With Surplus
Of $754,000,000

By FRANCES SPATZ
U. S. Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 2.—(INS)—
Treasury Secretary John Snyder announced today that the United States government closed the fiscal year 1947 with a budget surplus of 754 million dollars—the first surplus since 1930.

Snyder also said that the public debt during the fiscal year ended June 30 was slashed by over 11 and a half billion dollars.

The three-quarter billion dollar surplus was a half billion dollars less than was estimated by President Truman in April.

However, it was the first surplus since 1930 when President Herbert Hoover closed the fiscal year 738 million dollars in the black.

The highest surplus in American history occurred in 1927 when President Coolidge chalked-up a one billion, 155 million dollar excess of receipts over expenditures.

B. Lantz, 45, was shot to death

New Effort On Tax Reduction Action Likely

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(INS)—
Senate GOP leaders indicated today they were swinging toward a decision to push through a new Jan. 1, 1948 tax reduction bill before Congress adjourns this month.

House and Senate leaders scheduled a conference on the legislative agenda for this afternoon, with the No. 1 question whether the Senate has the "sure" votes to operative veto. Both sides agreed to make a final decision by Thursday.

Chairman Millikin (R) Col. of the Senate Finance committee, said he was still "counting noses" for votes to override a veto in the Senate. But GOP colleagues described Millikin as optimistic and apparently confident of the outcome.

Sens. Taft (R) Ohio, GOP policy
chairman, and Vandenberg (R) Mich., president pro tempore, were described as cool toward the idea of adding a second fling at tax reductions to the already jammed program.

home in Pittsburgh as soon as possible.

Fourth Of July Don'ts Are Given

CHICAGO, July 2.—(INS)—A July 4 holiday traffic death toll of 275 was predicted in Chicago today by the National Safety Council.

The council warned that in addition, there will be casualties from drownings, fireworks, heat exhaustion, food poisoning and other hazards.

Close to 30 million vehicles are expected to create the biggest traffic jam in history with nearly four billion miles recorded on speedometers during the three-day weekend.

To prevent fatalities, the council suggested:

1. Don't speed on the road.
2. Don't drink if you drink.
3. Don't use fireworks.
4. Don't overdo in exercise, eating or sun exposure.
5. Don't swim alone.

Report Parleys Being Held On Coal Wage Pact

Indicate Lewis Near Achievement Of Goal In Demands On Operators

NO DETAILS GIVEN OUT ON MEETINGS

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 2.—
John L. Lewis apparently held the whip hand today in his efforts to force the soft coal industry to grant in full his 1947 contract demands.

The UMW president reportedly is near achievement of this goal.

The big "break" came last week
when U. S. Steel and Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., representing one-sixth of the nation's bituminous tonnage, agreed to meet Lewis' wage-hour demand equivalent to a 35-cent-an-hour pay boost.

Other members of the northern and western operators negotiating committee, representing commercial producers, reportedly had no alternative except to go along with the offer to pay the miners $13.05 for an eight-hour portal-to-portal day.

Only First Step
The agreement on the wage-hour issue was only the first step, however, in the negotiation of a new private contract to replace the government-union pact which expired Monday.

Lewis and the mine owners now are bargaining over collateral issues, such as the miners' health and welfare fund, the safety code and other points.

Benjamin F. Fairless, U. S. Steel president, and George M. Humphrey, chairman of Pittsburgh Consolidation, reportedly obtained no concessions on these collateral issues in agreeing to Lewis' full wage-hour demand.

Having won the 35-cent wage boost, the UMW chief is said to be demanding 100 percent compliance with his other requests.

Lewis was understood to have con-

Six Injured In 'Uprising'

Trouble Develops In Indiana
State Reformatory At Pendleton, Indiana

PENDLETON, Ind., July 2.—(INS)—
Four prisoners were suffering gunshot wounds and two officers suffering other injuries today in the wake of what was termed an "uprising" at the Indiana State reformatory in Pendleton.

One prisoner, Henry Jackson, 22, was in serious condition in the reformatory hospital with a wound in his neck.

Prison Capt. E. H. Gardner, reformatory night officer, said the uprising occurred yesterday during a meal time lineup in the institution library.

The two injured officers were Ernest Ellingswood, superintendent of the prison school, who suffered a broken arm, and William Cramer, yard officer, who was hurt in the shoulder.

Capt. Gardner said Jackson and Howard Curley, 34, armed themselves with iron bars, shears and chairs in their attack on the prison guards.

The night captain said the trouble began in the prison yard when Jackson and Curley were reprimed by a guard. He declared:
"The men just went crazy. There was no effort at a break."

Arthur Mometer

Get the family bus in the proper shape, pack the sandwiches in a box, take mosquito dope and some extra clothes, and be sure to put in some socks. Get the thermos jug and the ice cold tea, and the salad can ride in it. Include some ice, say a fifty or hundred-pound chunk. For the annual picnic is coming up, the faint on the Fourth of July, and be hoping hard that the rain keeps off and the weather is warm and dry. And you'll all come back with a sunburned nose, by the time the picnic is through. It's all a part of the glorious Fourth, and the weather is eighty-two.

ferred again yesterday with Fairless, Humphrey and other officials in an attempt to complete a new contract before the miners end their vacation next Tuesday. A full-fledged summer coal strike looms if there is no agreement by that date.

Other officials involved in yesterday's pow-wow were Harry Moses, head of U. S. Steel's coal subsidiary, John Stephens, vice-president of the firm in charge of industrial relations; Charles O'Neill, chief spokesman for Northern Appalachian operators, and Ben Morrell, head of Jones & Laughlin Steel Co.

Lewis was flanked by his customary UMW aides. The union leader was in fine spirits but refused to discuss the coal situation with newsmen.

O'Neill and Moses were equally non-committal when they reported after the high-powered conference to the northern and western operators' negotiating committee.

Expect Further Meetings

Further meetings with Lewis were expected today.

Chief obstacle in the negotiations at this point is believed to be the UMW president's demand for an increase in the royalty on coal for the miners' welfare fund from five to 10 cents a ton.

The operators reportedly have offered only to continue the five-cent contribution contained in the government-UMW contract.

The northern and western group also are understood to have agreed to continue the federal mine safety code which Lewis won from Interior Secretary Krug a year ago.

The operators reportedly rejected however, Lewis' demands for six paid holidays; time and one-half pay for Saturday, and double-time for Sunday, as such, regardless of whether they are the sixth and seventh working days in a week.

Edward A. DeCarbo Coroner Candidate

East Side Citizen Asks Republican Nomination At Primary
September 9

EDW. A. "EDDIE" DE CARBO

Edward A. "Eddie" DeCarbo, of 770 Arlington avenue today announced his intention of seeking the Republican nomination for coroner at the primary election September 9. In his statement he has the following to say:

"I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for coroner. The qualifications for the office can be described as good judgment and a mind to economy. Both of these I believe I have.

"It is the coroner's duty to investigate deaths of violence or under suspicious circumstances and where he believes it necessary, to hold an inquest. In the hands of one concerned with making the office profitable, it would be possible to hold many, many inquests. Inquests, I believe, should be kept at a minimum, consistent with efficiency.

"I have lived in New Castle all my life, educated in the New Castle schools and graduated from the Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science on February 16, 1947.

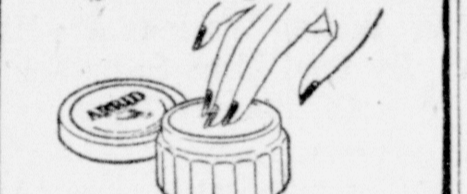

"Military service alone is not sufficient endorsement for an office, but for the sake of the record may I say that I served in the armed forces for four years, in the medical corps.

"I ask the votes of Republicans at the primary on September 9, 1947. (Political Advertisement)

recorded late yesterday was 40.2 feet.

The new upward surge in the Father of Waters was caused by a 2.81 inch rainfall and a break in four levees at Prairie Du Pont, Chouteau-Nameoki-Venice, Degonia and Harrisonville.

Red Cross officials announced that 26,780 persons were homeless in the flood areas of Illinois, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska.

Estimated of refugees from the new flood varied from 5,000 to 10,000 persons. These figures were expected to increase as the Coast Guard continued evacuations along the flood-swollen river.

An estimated 5,000 persons were homeless in the St. Louis area.

No loss of life was reported throughout the flood area. This was credited to the prompt work of flood workers, the Coast Guard, Army engineers and the weather bureau in warning residents of the danger area to flee to higher ground.

Property damage in the St. Louis area was estimated at ten million dollars as the result of the Mississippi's latest rampage.

Previously crop and property damage in the four state-flooded area was estimated at several hundred millions of dollars.

Seedless watermelons have been grown in horticultural experiments.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—(INS)—Production of military aircraft in the United States was reported today to have dropped to the "dangerously low level" of about 100 planes a month.

The estimate was made by Harvey Stowers, assistant to the president of the Aircraft Industries Association of America.

BE ALIVE ON THE FIFTH

What shall we say to these people?

One is a man driving with his family on a vacation trip. He is hurrying to arrive at his destination before dark. A slow-moving truck tempts him to pass on a hill...

One is a mother who failed to hear the summer cottage screen door slam, nor did she notice her 18-month-old son toddle to the bluff overlooking the lake and disappear...

Another is a teen-age boy driving friends home from a movie. Laughing and cutting up, they were into the intersection before anyone saw the big, black sedan...

Another is a father who permitted his children to have only "safe" fireworks. His hands were badly burned trying to beat out the flaming torch of his daughter's thin summer dress after the sparkler touched it...

What can we say to these people? They have no names—yet. They will be the victims of Fourth of July accidents...

They are a few of the 8,000 or more Americans who will be killed by accidents in July. This estimate is made by the National Safety Council, which regretfully notes the grim lessons of experience.

Many of these deaths will happen during the Fourth of July holiday, which this year is a three-day weekend.

What can we do to stop it? There must be something. All of these deaths will be needless, because virtually all accidents are preventable.

You—the man who passed the truck on the hill—we can't send a policeman to you now and say, "On July 4, at exactly 5:43 p. m., you will become impatient at following a truck and try to pass. You will crash head-on into an approaching car at the crest of the hill and only your baby daughter will survive."

No, we can't warn you. We don't even know who you are. But you are somewhere.

All we can do is tell everyone, those marked for death and those who are not, to be careful. That's a flat and distasteful phrase to most Americans—Be Careful!—but it's all we can say.

Be careful. Be Alive On the Fifth!

CLOSER TO THE PEOPLE

Senate passage of the Wherry bill seems a highly satisfactory solution of the presidential succession problem. The bill provides that the Speaker of the House, then the presiding officer of the Senate, then the cabinet members in order of rank shall succeed to the Presidency when that office becomes vacant and there is no Vice President.

If the office of President should become vacant January 20, 1949, under existing legislation the Secretary of State would succeed to the Presidency. That is all wrong, President Truman believes, because the Secretary of State is appointed by the President and no President should have power to select his own successor.

The Speaker of the House, then, seems the fairest choice, because he, like the President and Vice President, is elected by the people. It is reasonable, too, that the Speaker have precedence over the President Pro Tem. of the Senate, for the Speaker has been elected to the House within two years, whereas the President Pro Tem. may have been elected to the Senate more than five years previously.

With House approval regarded as certain, Congress and the President seem to see eye to eye on this bill, which did not become a partisan issue. Their chief concern was to establish succession so that it best represented the people. The White House and Capitol Hill are teaming up here to do a good job.

ECONOMIC JURY

Though its mouth-filling title fails to convey a clear idea of its function, the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report is considering ways and means of "preventing depressions so that substantially full employment may be continuously maintained."

The committee is now holding hearings. The other day it had before it Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors, and S. Sloan Colt, president of the Bankers Trust Company of New York City. Other witnesses are to follow.

From the testimony so far taken it is already evident that the committee is destined to get all kinds of conflicting counsel on how to keep the nation's economy functioning at a high level. Views are bound to vary, depending on where the viewer happens to sit. Indeed, the committee is certain to listen to many clashing opinions if its list of witnesses is at all representative of the component parts of the nation's economic system. This should not preclude the possibility that it will be able to draw conclusions if it will look upon itself as a jury with a duty to reach a verdict on the basis of the great weight of the evidence.

That expression of amazement on Hank Wallace's face may have been caused by reading in the newspapers that Marshall is now sponsoring his "milk for the Hottentots" plan.

Seek To Throw Off Federal Curbs

WASHINGTON, July 2.—It's an ancient axiom of strategy that if you can't gain your objective by frontal attack, then take it from the rear by stealth. This is the maneuver the power companies are now undertaking through an innocent-sounding bill which thus far has almost entirely escaped attention.

What this measure does, in effect, is to repeal the most important provisions of the law creating the Federal Power Commission. At least three fourths of the companies now regulated by the commission would be exempted.

A parade of power company executives and lawyers have appeared before a House committee to urge immediate passage of the bill, which is sponsored by Rep. William J. Miller, Republican, of Connecticut. And while it has not been given the official stamp of approval by the Republican leadership, it might easily be slipped through in the last-minute jam that comes with the end of a session of Congress.

Witnesses for the Connecticut Light and Power Co., the Georgia Power Co., the Detroit Edison Co. and the Wisconsin Public Service Corp. were among those who wanted the bill adopted. There also were witnesses from several state utility commissions in favor of the measure, and this reveals the shrewdness of those promoting the maneuver.

The appeal is made to states' rights and state authority as contrasted to federal authority. This sounds very well until one looks at the state commissions responsible for local utility regulation. With honorable exceptions, they are pretty hopeless.

One reason is that most states pay such poor salaries that experts qualified to do the technical job of regulation are always being lured away by high salaries offered by the utility companies. Most commissions are so inadequately staffed that the private companies are put under little restraint. The private-utility lobby in a state capital is ordinarily well-behaved, and now and then shocking cases of wholesale bribery have come to light.

To understand the significance of the current maneuver, it is important to look at the origin of federal regulation. It comes originally out of the conservation movement sponsored by such leaders as (Continued on Page Eleven)

The World and the Mud Puddles

OUR STANDARD IS DIFFERENT

Many Americans will be somewhat puzzled by the statement of Russian Ambassador Bedell Smith before the House Foreign Affairs Committee that the Soviet is creating a higher cultural standard than the rest of the world and that American students should be sent to Russia to study the teachings of Marx, Engel and Lenin. Thanks to the insistence of Red propagandists, American students have ample opportunity to study Marxist doctrines at home. What will puzzle most of us is just what the Ambassador meant by the superiority of Russian culture.

Standards of culture, like its definition, vary with individual viewpoints. The Websterian conception is refinement of person, taste, mind and morals. Generally speaking, Americans accept as a "cultured" individual one of rounded learning, good manners, tolerance, unselfish conduct, appreciation of the various arts, worldly knowledge and a certain degree of sophistication, all underlain by certain indefinable spiritual qualities. A "cultured" individual would not be expected to live in squalor, to tolerate cruelties or indignities or to submit to suppression of his opinions. Under the American concept "culture" is impossible without freedom of thought and expression and taste.

In some lines of culture, certain Russians have obtained preeminence in some lines of culture. In music, in literature, in the dance and the ballet, Slavic genius ranks with the highest. What appreciation the Russian masses have of such works as those of Tchaikovsky and Tolstol, for example, we on this side of the world are unable to say—we do not even know what chance they have to know such works. We do know that literacy has not yet reached a point where the multitudes are able to acquaint themselves with Russian literary masterpieces.

As to the broader aspects of culture, one may be forgiven for wondering how they can prevail under a tyranny which forbids free expression or even free thought; which outlaws religion as the "opiate of the people"; which denies the individual reward for research, study and invention; which imposes the lowest material standards of living; which holds all ability to the level of mediocrity; which limits education to the propaganda of Communism.

Many Americans would be interested in more specific details from Ambassador Smith as to the superior culture which he attributes to the Soviets. If they have certain things we lack, we should be glad to emulate them without prejudice.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

A CHILD'S SUCCESS AT SCHOOL

In the modern primary school the child spends considerable time at coloring, free drawing and handwork. Having observed children of the first grade in hundreds of classrooms throughout the United States I have been amazed at finding in practically every classroom a number of children who are not attracted to such activities because they don't do well at it. I used to suppose that all children like to color, draw and make things with their hands.

Confirming the foregoing observations are numerous letters I have received from mothers who describe the children who are lagging at school in these activities. Here is a sample.

A Mother's Letter

"My little boy six years old is in the first grade. His teacher thinks he should finish his coloring at school. She sometimes keeps him after school and again she has him bring his work home to finish it. He dislikes coloring and drawing very much. I buy him coloring books for practice at home but he will work at it only a short time and then put it aside. He complains of its making him too tired."

These young activity-laggards do not all come from the underprivileged homes nor from homes whose parents have not encouraged the child in coloring, drawing and handwork. It does seem true, however, that this child has not been stimulated effectively in these directions at home while at school or during his preschool years.

Must Gain Satisfaction

It is not enough to put paper, crayons and color books into his hands. We need so to set the stage that he will gain satisfaction at achieving with them. He needs a little help here, a little there. Most of all, he needs appreciation by parents and other children of his crudeness and efforts so as to make him feel they are worthwhile.

When the child two, three or five puts blocks together or makes marks, lines or colors according to his own fancy, he is more ready to go on creating if some older person present has enough imagination and sympathy to enjoy his creations. If, on the other hand, his crude efforts are ignored, or worse still, belittled, his zeal to go on wanes.

Efforts Not Appreciated

If at school he sees he cannot draw or color nearly as well as the other children; if his efforts are not appreciated; if, alas, his work is condemned or ridiculed, he may lose interest and not try.

Then, too, the little child may be color-blind or color-weak or have poor eye-hand coordination. A discerning parent or teacher should (Continued on Page Eleven)

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Do you think that women talk a great deal . . . or does it just seem that way. No doubt that will start a lot of conversation and some will say . . . "Why that's no way to think . . . Why do people always pick on the women. Especially men . . . the men couldn't get along without the women". Yes, they will be speaking the truth . . . men can't get along without the women and the wag will add . . . and they can't get along with them.

* * *

Some seem to think that the reason women talk so much is because a majority of women spend the most of their time alone . . . they get tired of talking to themselves and when an audience turns up they can't resist the opportunity of letting fly . . . Some men say that the reason men are so quiet is because from birth their mothers talked and talked to them . . . and they couldn't reply and then when they did learn to say a few words the mothers were so used to doing all the talking they never had an opportunity to enter the conversation and as they grew into manhood they had lost the desire to carry on lengthy conversations.

* * *

Maybe that theory is right . . . but we know a lot of men who do a powerful lot of talking and a great many men who do a powerful lot of talking never seem to say anything. Of course the same holds true of the opposite sex . . . and we can't rightly agree that any more blame can be placed on women talkers than on men talkers. That is however, until you consider the telephone . . . the telephone it seems has a certain fascination for some members of the female population.

* * *

In fact it's more than a fascination . . . it seems to be an obsession for some women. They can't control their desires . . . many business men have trouble with women workers using business phones for social reasons . . . not short snappy calls . . . like "Yes Mary I'll take lunch with you", or "No John I'll not date you tonight". But long conversations that could well afford to wait until the parties meet face to face. Some concerns have attempted to make a hard and fast rule about telephone social conversations . . . And that leaves us with the thought . . . are women really talkers?

There is some indication that before the summer is over, Hawaiians will be entitled to share our joys and tax rates.

The Republicans are pushing the bill for statehood . . . Republicans can always use an extra state going into an election year.

If they don't get Hawaii in '48 they'll try Alaska in '52 and Staten Island in '56.

Third party talk is plentiful these days . . . It is felt that a splendid ticket could be made up of men who couldn't make any other ticket.

Maybe they should enlist a few youngsters. A psychologist says men reach their peak intelligence at the age of 17 . . . at 18 they begin to slip. Some get married and some go to work.

Anyway Alf Landon has been up talking with Tom Dewey about '48 prospects . . . They agreed that it will be a fine year if it doesn't ruin.

Words Of Wisdom

Influence never dies; every act, emotion, look and word makes influence tell for good or evil, happiness or woe, through the long future of eternity.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

As you know, I am usually a pretty optimistic sort of fellow.

But today everything went wrong, and I came to the conclusion that Fate had picked me especially as a guinea pig for all her whims.

My palm beach suit hadn't come back from the cleaner, and it was too hot for my regular clothes.

I wanted strawberries for dinner, but my wife told me that she'd be darned if she'd pay 53 cents a basket for them.

My tax bill had just been raised 40 per cent, and a fellow had scratched my fender with his car. Can you wonder I was disgusted?

Was life worth living?

Then I arrived at my office, and among my mail was this letter:

"I don't like to complain, because when you express yourself nowadays you are accused of being a communist, which I am not."

"But I do wish those fellows in Congress would stop bickering and messing up the whole world."

"But I hate being so poor in this land of full and plenty, and of greed and malice."

"My husband, now 62, an ex-coal miner, was badly hurt back in 1943. He can't get his job back, now that he is feeling better, on account of his age. He won't be able to collect his social security money for three years, and then it will be hardly enough to keep a mosquito from starving."

"Yet, our congressmen and senators reap high salaries and keep asking for more, while the common taxpayer such as ourselves can chew bark from an old hickory tree or else."

"We have a son in the navy who recently passed his 18th birthday. His salary is $84 a month, and he manages to send us $45 and some—$55."

"Out of this money we must live, clothe ourselves, pay taxes, coal, doctor bills and everything else."

"Our youngest son, now 14, had a perfect set of teeth. This term he fell and broke half of a front tooth. This fall he has to start high school with that broken tooth because we can't afford to have it fixed."

"Can you imagine what our life is like and can you offer a suggestion?"

Warns Drivers About Holiday

State Police Head Urges
Every Driving Precaution
Over Independence
Day Weekend

HARRISBURG, July 2.—(INS)—State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm today warned motorists to exert every driving precaution over the Independence Day weekend.

All available state troopers will be posted on highways to enforce safe driving regulations, he said. "Police cannot do all the work," Wilhelm asserted. "Every driver and pedestrian must do his share."

"The greatest danger of death on Pennsylvania rural highways during the coming holiday weekend will be before and after the Fourth of July and not on the holiday if the death pattern of last year is repeated," he alleged. Four persons were killed on rural roads July 3, 1946, Wilhelm reported. One was injured fatally on each of the two succeeding days, he said. Two persons met death on July 6 while three were killed on July 7.

"These figures speak for themselves," he pointed out, "and should serve as a grim reminder to take it easy if you want to be alive on Monday."

Early History Of New Castle

FIRST WHITE MEN HERE

First white men to set foot on the land that is now New Castle were the French. On the basis of La Salle's discovery of the Mississippi the French laid claim to the valley of that river and all its tributaries. Though it isn't certain, old records show that a French missionary may have visited here as early as 1627. Two other missionaries made a map of these parts in 1670.

The first real invasion made by the whites were about 1730, since the colonies began complaining of French encroachments in 1731. Because the English had disputed their claims, the French had proceeded to establish forts along all the important rivers.

The English and French fought for this wild country from that time until the end of the Revolution, when the United States assumed control. Besides the soldiers, the French who came to this territory were hunters, traders, and trappers; they made no attempt to found permanent settlements.

Although visited by Moravian missionaries from time to time, it wasn't until 1793 that the first white men who intended to stay came to these parts. None of them settled on the land where New Castle now stands because, through erroneous surveying, it was not included in any lot number.

John Stewart, a surveyor of New Castle, Delaware, noticed this uncharted fifty acres of land where the Nesheamock and Shenango intersect. He applied for the land, received it, and eventually founded New Castle in 1798.

Report Hunters Got 1,844 Deer In Warren County Last Season

WARREN, July 2.—According to figures just released, Warren led all the counties in division F of the state game layout during the 1946 season. In this county there were 1,844 deer shot by hunters. In 1945 only 1,391 deer were killed. Forest county ranked next, with 1,631 deer being shot during 1946.

From indications thus far, the bass season will be the best in years. Camps and cottages have been filled, and some enthusiastic anglers have pitched their tents down along the river. It has also been announced that all restrictions have been removed from fishing in the lake back of Tionesta dam, and it is known that some big fish lurk there.

Turnpike Revenue Shows Big Jump
HARRISBURG, July 2.—Americans are a nation of travelers, when nothing like gas rationing or no travel prevents. This was proven by statistics handed out by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission. It was found that the revenue from the 160-mile four-lane toll highway from Irwin to Carlisle amounted to $4,100,000 for the fiscal year ended May 31, compared to $2,900,000 for the previous year.

Birthday Moratorium Urged On Europe

NEW YORK, July 2.—Mrs. Margaret Sanger Slee, director of the birth control research bureau, Monday advocated a 10-year moratorium on births in the hungry countries of Europe. Adults "should not bring children into the world to starve," she said. Mrs. Slee has left America to attend a conference on family planning at Oxford, England, July 21 to 26.

When asked if she included England among the countries which should have the birth moratorium, she replied, "It definitely includes England."

James Buchanan was the only bachelor to serve as President of the United States. His niece, Miss Harriett Lane, presided over the White House as first lady during his term of office.

KILL NEW WEEDS AS THEY APPEAR

Serious weed infestations generally start with just a few plants, perhaps only one, and if dealt with vigorously and promptly they could be eliminated at the start, but if neglected may become so well established that they can never be licked.

A relatively weed-free farm is a source of pride, satisfaction and profit. One where weeds have been neglected may become almost worthless, or require very expensive methods to clean up.

In fields where weeds are just getting started, as in some Lawrence county oats fields which may be observed from the highways an occasional mustard or radish plant could be pulled out in short order some wet day to stop them from going to seed and spreading.

Presence of whole patches of these weeds this year doubtless is the result of one or two plants having gone to seed a few years ago. Other fields, unfortunately, have become uniformly infested all over. It would take years of spraying and clean seed to stop the re-seeding of weeds and to clean up the weed seed in the soil.

White cockle, another hayfield weed, is becoming common. It differs from the cockle in wheat in color and also because of the fact it is a perennial which continues to bloom and seed year after year and as often as it is cut off. Pulling is impractical, but salt or other chemicals will wipe it out if used in time.

Bull thistles, biennials, going to seed the second year, can be controlled in the fields if cut or salted.

According to legend, the Belides, granddaughters of King Belus, were 50 maidens who murdered their husbands on their wedding night. For this they were sentenced to draw water from a deep well until they filled an immense sieve—a perpetual task.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The much publicized and once-fashionable Fifth avenue home of the Collyer brothers, who shut themselves off from society a generation ago, is to be demolished because it has been found "unsafe and a fire hazard."

Mercer County Dan Cupid Has Strenuous June

MERCER, July 2.—The rush season is over for Cupid now too. He can lay aside his bow and arrow for a much needed rest after having spent one of the most strenuous Junes in the past 12 years. Cupid was able to chalk up 197 couples that he lured to the altar via the Mercer county marriage license bureau.

This June was topped only by June, 1943, when 293 couples applied for licenses, and June, 1945, when 236 filed intentions to wed.

Half of the children born in the United States come from farming areas where slightly more than 30 percent of the national adult population lives.

Bicyclist Hurt When Hit By Car

According to Mr. Richards report to city police, Cox was riding a bicycle east on Grant Street and Mr. Richards was turning his auto left into Sampson Street. The youth was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital where it was found he had suffered bruises of the body, and laceration of the face, with possible fracture of the jaw.

He is continuing his leadership in the college's half-million dollar centennial fund drive even though he is undergoing painful anti-rabies inoculations as a result of being bitten by a dog on Monday while visiting a prospective donor.

After being bitten, Dr. Stewart had his wound treated and still managed to raise $5000 to swell the total of the fund.

Dr. Stewart made the address at the New Castle High School commencement in June.

Phil G. Greer, who conducts a business at 936 Moravia street, reported to city police yesterday that while a contractor was raising a manhole cover preparatory to resurfacing, a stone flew, breaking a 6x5 window in his establishment.

Gilmore Announces For Commissioner

North Beaver Township Man Enters
Race For Republican Nomination

JOSEPH W. GILMORE

Joseph W. Gilmore, of North Beaver township, a member of a pioneer Lawrence County family, today announced his intention of seeking the Republican nomination for county commissioner at the primary on September 9. Mr. Gilmore's statement follows:

"For many years the membership of the Lawrence County Board of County Commissioners has not included a member from the western side of the county, that is the vast district lying west of New Castle toward the Ohio line.

"This is not to say that county commissioners or any other public official should be elected because of geographical location, but, where abilities are equal, it is only justice that the various parts of the county should be represented from time to time.

"Further, the proportion of farmers who have served upon the board of County Commissioners has been small. With the large percentage of farm area in this county it seems to me that the man who raises food stuffs should have a representative now and then.

"I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for county commissioner. Like my family for several generations prior to me, I have resided in North Beaver township. Like them also, I am a farmer, although for some eight years I was engaged in the profession of school teacher.

"Farming is a business that calls for sound judgment, clear thinking and close attention to business. It is just as true of a county commissioner. He sets the tax rate, spends the people's money, and conducts the business of the county for the people.

"Like many others, I have believed for some time that business practices should get as much attention as politics in the commissioner's office. Frankly, I believe business should come first, the business of the people who have to pay the bills.

"A dollar is a dollar, whether it is your own or the people's. It should be spent with the idea of getting your money's worth. A county commissioner is a creature of the people of the county and as such he should answer to the people's wishes.

"If nominated and elected I expect to handle the business of the county as carefully as if it were my own. To levy only sufficient taxes to conduct the affairs of the county efficiently, and once levied, to spend the tax money as though it were my own.

"This is the first time I have ever sought public office. I do so because I believe it is time for some consideration of the ordinary people, the farmers, the workers, the office men and women, the small business men. They make Lawrence County what it is, they have a right to a square deal in the commissioner's office.

SONS OF ITALY STATE CONVENTION IS OPEN; ATTENDANCE IS LARGE

Italy. The Red Coat band played a concert in Myer street and then paraded over the city.

The rush of delegates and guests today was far beyond anything General Chairman E. J. Biondi and his aides expected. It seemed that every one of the 375 lodges in the state had twice as many people here as was anticipated and the result is a jam, but a jam that is being worked out smoothly by the organization.

On Tuesday night a reception and floor show were held in the Sons of Italy lodge building on South Mill street with Al Francis as master of ceremonies. The building was crowded and the guests overflowed on to the lawns outside which have been enclosed with a canvas wall. During the evening Venerable John Di Lorenzo was presented with a watch by members of the lodge for his outstanding work.

Convention Ball Tonight

The convention ball will be held tonight in the Cathedral with three bands providing continuous music. This is a public affair and will undoubtedly be well attended.

Today's session in the Cathedral was of the usual preliminary type of thing. Welcome addresses were made, credentials were checked and the way cleared for the more serious business to come.

On this first day of the 19th annual convention it can be said truthfully that this convention tops anything the order ever had. The convention heads agree that it is the largest, they also agree that the arrangements made by the local committees are well done.

Thursday's session in the Cathedral will start at 10 a. m. and the second session will be at 2 p. m. at one o'clock there is a dinner for the women attending the convention and at 6:00 there will be a band concert at the lodge home on South Mill street.

PHILADELPHIA POLICE REPORT CONFESSION IN STEEL DRUM MURDER

picked the prim looking spinster up on a street corner about 2 a. m., and took her to a nearby room, where he had been living since he separated from his wife.

There, according to his purported confession, he and Miss Dougherty became involved in an argument and he choked her with his hands until she died.

Kept Body In Closet

Kelly said Wagner told him he kept the body in a closet in his room several days until neighbors began to complain of an odor in the house.

The suspect allegedly got two men to haul the huge steel drum to his room and wait outside while he stuffed her body into it. They unsuspectingly helped him cart it on an express wagon 26 blocks to the lot where he dumped it, Kelly continued.

Police said Wagner, a former sailor, was employed as a starter for a transportation company. They did not reveal the source of their tip.

June Licenses Near Record

Hundred Seventy Nine Couples Get Marriage License In Past Month

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Dan Cupid can take his annual vacation now. As he bows out for a few weeks well earned rest we can remind him that "little man, you've had a busy month". June was a dandy in the marriage license bureau. As the month ended 179 couples who were "that way" about each other did something about it and took out the papers that made them one. Or at least until some judge signed a decree of divorce.

June 1946 was one of the top months of all time when 196 licenses were issued. The rush that month was explained in part by the fact that men were back from service and had time to get around to getting married. But this June came close. For the next couple of weeks there will probably be cobwebs on the inkwells.

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

The giant airliner, a converted Army C-54, crashed on a flight from Newark, N. J., to Miami, Fla. It was the worst accident in America commercial aviation history.

The CAB report said the consensus of eyewitnesses was that the plane went into a dive at 4,000 feet and was "inverted" when it passed from their view behind trees just before it hit the ground.

Several witnesses, the board emphasized, saw portions of the tail surfaces leave the plane at an estimated altitude of 6,000 feet.

PETROLEUM MARGIN IN U. S. GOOD FOR "PEACETIME ONLY"

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(INS)—A government oil expert told congress Tuesday that the nation's petroleum margin is satisfactory for "peacetime only" and warned that midwestern motorists will be short of gasoline until fall.

Max W. Ball, director of the interior department's oil and gas division, told the house interstate and foreign commerce committee that petroleum shortages are due primarily to the lack of steel for refinery equipment, tank cars and pipelines.

Ball declared that shipments of U. S. oil to Russia, totaling two and a half million barrels, "represents only a half day's production in America" and asserted there is no evidence that the Soviets are "stockpiling" petroleum.

Statistical Survey Discloses Most Of Americans Growing Less And Less Intelligent

By MARTHA KEARNEY

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(INS)—The people of the United States were described Tuesday as apparently growing less intelligent all the time with one-third of us barely holding our own.

The population reference bureau bulletin, after analyzing statistics on four different types of intelligence measurements, has published its conclusion that intelligence is lessening generation by generation. The four yardsticks used in the analysis are I. Q. ratings, educational attainment, economic status and type of occupation.

The bulletin charged that if the intelligence quotient samplings are really representative of the nation's population, "practically one-third of us are no better intellectually than dull or backward."

This lowest third of the population, in terms of intelligence, appears to be reproducing itself about twice as fast as the highest third according to the bureau's intelligence survey.

Helpless As Idiot

The bulletin added: "As a voting participant in helping to solve the many intricate problems of our complex civilization, a dull and backward individual is almost as helpless as an idiot."

"In fact we may be more dangerous to democratic institutions because he is easily commanded by demagogues and dictators."

The same cross section of I. Q. scores was quoted to indicate that about 40 per cent of the people of the United States have normal intelligence while about 27 per cent are of superior mental ability.

The bulletin declared that if I. Q. ratings are accepted as reliable measurements of intelligence, there are strong intimations that the intelligence of the people of this nation is declining as rapidly as an English population expert found it declining in England.

Sir Cyril Burt, who made the English survey recently for the royal commission on population, was quoted as finding that "the average intelligence is on the decrease at the rate of five I. Q. points in 50 to 60 years."

The bulletin drew upon 1940 census bureau statistics to support its contention that high school or college graduates, persons of comparatively favorable economic status and persons of professional standing are failing to reproduce themselves.

persons in the lowest third of each group might excel those in the highest third, it held that by environment and possibly heredity the latter would be likely to have more intelligent progeny with more chance of mental development.

The doctrine of the divine right of kings was promulgated in England in the 17th century. It held that kings were divinely appointed; that they were the earthly representatives of the Deity, entitled to absolute obedience from their subjects. The principle was definitely refuted by the Bill of Rights, adopted in 1689, which clearly set forth the right of the people to depose a sovereign and to alter the succession.

The poor unfortunates who buy these gadgets—these fakes—are grasping at straws, being taken in by swindlers. Don't fall victim to this modern "Black Magic"! When you're ill there's only one person who can help you—your doctor. Go to him. His advice may save you many dollars, as well as needless heart-aches in shattered hopes.

Bush A Candidate For Commissioner

New Castle Business Man A Candidate For Republican Nomination

HARVEY B. BUSH

Harvey B. Bush, a business man of the second ward of New Castle is a candidate for the Republican nomination for county commissioner. In his statement of announcement today he outlines his platform as follows:

"It is an all too common belief that the business of government is politics. In our selection of officials, the choice must be made through the medium of political parties but men and women who are elected to public office should remember that business, the people's business comes first."

"I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner because I believe that the time has come when the people of Lawrence County should demand more business and less politics in the county commission's office. Sound business practice demands judgment and proper economies. When the commissioners take a dollar from a home owner in the form of taxes they should give him back a dollar's worth of government. This might be considered a provincial point of view, in the light of what has been happening, but I believe it is still good sense."

"The Lawrence County commissioners are in effect, the business managers of a corporation of over 100,000 stockholders. Those stockholders have a right to know what is being done with their money, whether it is being spent because of political affiliations or if business principles govern the spending."

"As a business man all my adult life, and as a resident of Lawrence County since birth, I am of the opinion that the people want good government at a reasonable cost. It is not enough to say this county operates at a lower cost, or a lower tax rate than some other county. The question is, are we getting our money's worth?"

"I ask the support of Republican voters at the primary on September 9, 1947. If thirty years of business experience is any criterion of qualifications, then I believe I am qualified to handle the job."

WASHINGTON CALLING

Theodore Roosevelt and Gifford Pinchot. These men were concerned with protecting the water-power sites, that were part of America's great natural heritage, from wasteful and destructive exploitation.

Then, in the '20s, the private power industry began to develop on a nationwide scale, with power lines linking generating stations across state boundaries. In 1928, Congress ordered a comprehensive investigation of the utility industry by the Federal Trade Commission. In his annual message in December, 1929, Herbert Hoover recommended reorganization of the Federal Power Commission as an independent agency to provide federal regulation covering the interstate transmission of power, which the state commissions were powerless to touch under the Constitution.

One of the sponsors of federal regulation was the late Sen. James Couzens of Michigan. The fiery Couzens frequently blasted at power company practices which he regarded as reprehensible. The Federal Trade Commission reported nearly a billion and a half dollars in over-inflated values on utility company books—inflated values on which the average householder had his rates based.

A law was passed in 1935 extending the powers of the Federal Power Commission, which had been re-organized under Hoover. As a result, according to a statement made by the commission to Chairman Charles A. W. Wolverton of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, a vast amount of water is being squeezed out of utility rate structures. The commission puts the total at $1,234,186,768 already eliminated or in process of being squeezed out.

In recent months, companies have stiffened their resistance to commission orders, apparently anticipating a successful maneuver to circumvent federal regulation altogether. The bill backed by the power companies has so many escape clauses that, according to the commission, "The public interest would come off second best when it conflicted with the private interests of the affected utility."

What is proposed is a major change in federal policy going back to Hoover, and before. It should not be allowed to slip through in a time of distraction and confusion. (Copyright, 1947, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Paducah, Ky., is situated at the confluence of the Ohio and Tennessee rivers, and is the terminus of several river packet lines. The city was laid out in 1827, and received a city charter in 1836. It was occupied and fortified by General Grant during the Civil war, and successfully defended against General Forrest with a much larger force. It was the birthplace of O. O. McIntyre, author.

Some Previews Of Fourth Of July In Local Homes

About 10 p. m. on the third of July, a lot of mothers-in-law are going to get a phone call from a suddenly friendly daughter's husband.

"Mother, dear, since you aren't going anywhere tomorrow, would you mind keeping Junior and Betty Jo? They'll be scarcely any trouble, for they've gone to bed early tonight."

So mother-in-law spends a hectic fourth removing sharp and dangerous objects from the reach of small inquisitive hands. Junior cries if she refuses him his 16th cookie, and he cries again about an hour later because he got it. Will their parents never come? The beach can't be THAT fascinating.

Go To Reunion?

The family conference! It, too, is an annual occurrence. Mother insists that they must go to the reunion. What would great-uncle Will say if they weren't there? Junior wants Dad to go fishing, and Dad wants to stay home and sleep or putter around the house. Betsy doesn't care what they do, as long as she isn't forced to go to any old reunion. She's going with the gang.

Before they have quite decided, Aunt Mabel and her daughter and their two small, grimy sons appear, with the announcement that they "just dropped in". Of course, they stay for dinner and supper.

The farmer, who can't see why the fourth isn't as good a day as any for putting up that 10-acre field of hay, is equally disgruntled when his two city brothers and their seven children and three dogs appear on the scene "to help". His wife, too, is a little perturbed. She knows what they came for, and of course they get their picnic dinner.

May Get Athletic

Or father may suddenly get athletic and dig out those old golf clubs he hasn't looked at for three years. Before going out to the golf course, he takes a few trial swings around the living room, but nobly offers to pay for the two wages.

He wears no hat, takes his shirt off, and gets a terrific sunburn. His muscles are sore, and he's grumbly for a week. Worse yet, he goes to the office and brags to "the boys" that he played par golf. Yes-sire! Kept them young fellows jumping too.

The Fourth is an American holiday, and these ways of spending it are typically American, so don't deny it!!!

Truck-Trailer In Route 422 Accident

Truck and trailer, operated by Norman D. Willingham of 245 White street, Toledo, ran off the left side of route 422 one mile east of Princeton Tuesday afternoon and upset. The operator escaped injury.

The vehicle was owned by the Holiday-On-Ice company and was hauling their pipe to White Plains, N. Y., for an exhibition. The pipe and also the truck were damaged.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent uric acid passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Y.W.C.A. Director Of Elm St. Branch Completing Duties

Farewell Party For Miss Rosa Brown
Planned For Tuesday Evening,
July 8

Board and staff of the Y. W. C. A. and the committee of management of the Elm Street branch are planning a farewell party for Miss Rosa Brown, director of the Elm Street branch, who will complete her duties in New Castle and depart on July 31.

The party will be held at the home of Mrs. Jesse Kerr, 315 East Lincoln avenue, on Tuesday evening, July 8, at 7:30 o'clock.

Coming to the local branch on June 4, 1926, Miss Brown plans to take one year for a rest. During her 21 years of directorship she has thoroughly organized the Elm Street branch of the Y. W. C. A., increasing the membership to almost 300 out of a total of the 1,100 colored population of this community.

Elm Street branch not only houses five Y. W. C. A. clubs, but many community clubs and organizations use the building as their headquarters. Branch committee and clubs are taking a great interest in their building and their club work is a model for all other clubs.

With this excellent record of diligent service, Miss Brown is entitled to a rest period which she plans to spend at her home in Chicago, Ill. As yet no one has been secured as her successor.

Members of the Elm Street branch are also planning a party honoring their director. It will be held at the branch on Tuesday evening, July 29.

Western Counties Of State Pay Over Billion U. S. Tax

PITTSBURGH, July 2.—More than a billion dollars in federal taxes was collected in 24 western Pennsylvania counties for the fourth successive fiscal year ending Monday.

Mr. Granger said that this would probably be the last billion dollar year for some time, if proposed federal tax reductions are made next year and if the state community property bill becomes law.

Police Holding Wife In Slaying Of Her Husband

READING, Pa., July 2.—(INS)—A 54-year-old wife was held today as a suspect in the slaying of her husband, Nicholas DeAngelo, 61, of Reading.

Police charged his wife Josephine stabbed him fatally after accusing him of stealing a check sent to her by her brother in Mount Union.

Detectives said she telephoned police and surrendered when her husband ran from the house and collapsed two blocks away. A daughter, Carmella DeAngelo, 17, allegedly witnessed the stabbing.

The family had lived in Mount Union until 1941.

Mrs. DeAngelo, the mother of seven and an employee of a clothing firm, was quoted as telling police: "He hadn't work in 18 years. I supported him and the kids."

SUNDAY FAIR PROTEST FAILS

PITTSBURGH, July 2.—(INS)—The scheduled Sunday program of the Allegheny county fair will be held despite the protests of the Sabbath Association of Western Pennsylvania.

Rev. Michael M. Blackwood, association secretary, attempted to block the Sunday program and branded it as "a plan to commercialize a day regarded as sacred."

After a long conference with the Rev. Blackwood, county commissioners, directors of the fair and others concerned, Fire Commissioner John Heron said the affair was not commercial and planned to hold baseball and football games, an army air show and a musical pageant on August 31.

Rev. Blackwood explained, however, that his organization had no complaint against operation of the fair other than the celebration scheduled.

Staff Completed For Summer "Y" Camping Season

Complete staff to handle young campers at the Y. M. C. A. summer site was announced today through the association.

The following will make up the group: William Winter and David Gatrall, camp directors; Dick McKee, assistant director; senior counselors, Dick Onash, Henry McNicholas, Don Spears, Don Clark, Bob Irwin, Gordon and George Capps; junior counselors, Dave Rowe and

Fred Martin; camp cooks, Mrs. Saul and Mrs. Murdoch. This will mark the 26th year Camp Fred L. Rantz has been in operation, and the site will be used for five weeks. Already the first two weeks have been completely filled with applicants and there are but three places left in the third week.

The camp will open Sunday, July 6, and the boys may report to the camp any time that day after 9:30, but preferably after dinner. Transportation for those who need it will be furnished, but only in the afternoon. Persons driving their sons to the site, having extra room, are asked to stop at the "Y" before they go to the camp.

Some Chinese temples sell tickets to heaven.

William Winter Feted By Staff Of Central "Y"

Employed staff of the central branch of the Y. M. C. A. recently feted William Winter, program activities director, at a picnic held at Camp Fred L. Rantz. Mr. Winter will leave the local association August 15 to become general secretary of the Clearfield, Pa., branch. Picnic supper was cooked and served by Mrs. Anna Berkley, following which color movies of travel scenes in the West were shown by John Thompson. A gift was presented the honor guest later in the evening by Robert L. Meermans, general secretary.

SMOKE SCARE CALLS FIREMEN AT NOON

Five fire companies were called into action at the noon hour today, for a smoke scare at 109 East North street. No action was required of firemen, Assistant Chief W. H. Hawk stated.

The occupant had placed a chicken in the oven to roast, and went out. When she returned she found that it had burned, and opened the windows to let the smoke out. Neighbors thought the place was on fire and called firemen.

A false alarm was turned in from Box 44 at 2:53 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in addition to this call.

TOMATO BLIGHT WARNING GIVEN

IN THE OPEN

It was hot and sticky and humid along the creek bottom. An early morning drizzle had given way to a relentless late June sun which set the whole countryside a-shimmer. Spit bugs stewed in their own juice and even the mosquitoes moved out of the open areas into the cooler shade of the woodlands.

Counter-espionage soon carried the word that I was on the loose again. I had hardly locked up the car when a battle formation of mosquitoes, led by a veteran deer fly, zoomed into convoy position and escorted me all through the undergrowth.

Knee boots made possible a splash crossing of the wide stream at a spot where it breaks around an island. The rich alluvial bottoms stood shoulder high in a lush growth of swamp sunflower and bergamot and other late bloomers preparing for a mass flower show in late July. I broke my way through this tangle to the wooded hillside and here found the jewel weed in such thick growth that it completely concealed the forest floor.

Pay Mosquito Toll
After paying toll to several members of the mosquito patrol and blundering into several spider webs, which are always hung at the exact level of my nose, I gave up the woods walking as a bad idea and got out of there. In the bottom by the creekside were a few plants of the giant Solomon's seal, towering fully seven feet out of the loamy silt.

Several anglers were patiently waiting for a carp to take hold of their dough-ball baits in a murky pond just across the railroad tracks from the creek bottom. As I watched they pulled in a few small catfish, most of whom had swallowed the hook so deep that minor surgery was indicated. There were a few dragon flies about. These fellows love the sun. But I saw nary a sign of the turtles or water snakes which must find this pond a congenial home.

Despite the perverseness of the weather, we seem to be heading for a bumper wild berry crop, unless Old Sol makes up his mind to bake them off the bushes. Black-cap raspberries are turning red in some places, and looking quite fat and sassy. It's a little early yet to make any certain predictions as to the blackberries, but I note them setting fruit in good shape.

The outdoorsman meets so many interruptions these days that it's practically impossible to keep on schedule. Wild strawberries are hanging ripe underfoot almost everywhere and the countryman can't keep his mind on business when these plump bits of wild sweetness hang red in the sun. I walked a mile or so along a familiar pathway one recent evening. By the time I had sampled a juicy berry every other foot or two the short hike had taken twice the usual time.

Little Purple Flower

While stopping at one of these strawberry roadside refreshment stands I came face to face with the pretty little purple flower known as Venus' looking glass. The small leaves clasp the stem like a tiny cup, while the single flowers appear at each leaf joint, apparently lasting but a day. The shrubby cinquefoil is also blooming as a floral setting for the scarlet strawberry patches.

A visitor in formal dress greeted us at the door one morning recently. We were throwing open the house to sample the new day when we found this fellow, in long tailed elegance, perched on the outer screen door. It was a pale green luna moth, a beautiful perfect specimen, apparently lured by the night light.

Turtle hunters invaded the eddies in the creek behind our house the other evening. There were three in the party, but only one was a real snapper hunter. They had apparently visited several taprooms on the way to the stream, for their conversation was loud and picturesque. I thought they were the usual evening contingent of groundhog hunters and paid them little heed.

Suddenly there was a great hue and cry from the creek right behind the house. It sounded as though one of those hearties was drowning and yelling for help. I tore out back to find out what was going on. The real hunter had snagged onto a giant snapper and was having a time getting the reptile out of his hole under the bank. He was yelling for help at the top of his voice. Finally his partner broke through the tangles and gave him the necessary aid to haul the big fellow out. I saw this turtle, a vicious brute, later, and picked it up by the tail. My guess is it weighed better than 20 pounds.

HOW MUCH DO YOU KNOW ABOUT YOUR SCHOOLS?

Schools and school teachers are in the public eye today. More and more, Americans demand better schools, and better schools call for better teachers. But the American table of salaries for school teachers has not kept pace with the demand for improved schools, nor with the rising cost of living.

The Pennsylvania General Assembly has passed a new Teacher's Salary Act, which is now law. Under its provisions, all teachers in the second, third and fourth class districts are given equal salaries for equal training and experience.

This means that, given the opportunity of two positions, one in a small rural community, where living costs are below those of the cities, and a job in a city, teachers might possibly accept the position in the district where living costs are lower.

In order to compensate this difference we believe the larger school districts must make some adjustments.

The new salary act, House Bill 417, establishes minimum salaries for teachers. The idea of a mandated salary schedule is perfectly proper, but unfortunately, the minimums, beyond which a school district need not go if it does not care to, are far below what competent teachers should receive.

If modern American youth is to be given the proper instruction, competent teachers must be secured and competent teachers have a right to expect adequate salaries.

Many teachers in the New Castle schools today are receiving less actual "Take Home Pay" than they received in the middle twenties.

On Saturday we will point out to you what the new salary bill provides, how it affects New Castle teachers and what its implications means to you as a citizen.

Soviet Operating Lend-Lease Ships Without Transfer

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(INS)—A congressional committee was informed today that the Soviet government is the only nation still operating American lend-lease vessels without having reached a transfer agreement with the United States.

Vice Admiral W. W. Smith, chairman of the U. S. maritime commission, advised the house merchant marine committee that Russia has 96 American vessels, including eight tankers which are being used to transport petroleum from the west coast to Siberia.

Smith declared that the state department was now negotiating with the Russians for their purchase by the Soviet government or return to the United States.

He added that Great Britain was operating American lend-lease vessels under a charter agreement under which the British paid for the use of the ships. The committee is investigating threats of a petroleum shortage in this country.

Daniel Dillon, manager of tanker operations for the commission, discounted reports that people in the east would be cold next winter because of a fuel shortage. "I don't believe it," he stated.

U. S. Reports On Islands, Alaska To United Nations

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 2.—(INS)—The United States reported to the United Nations Tuesday on the administration of five of its island possessions and Alaska.

Six separate, specially-prepared reports contained information on economic, social and educational facilities in Alaska, American Samoa, Guam, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands were transmitted to the secretary-general of the U. N.

This action conformed with a request for such information made months ago by the U. N. general assembly.

The report on Alaska said that the manufacture of pulp and paper, particularly newsprint paper, is the great potential forest industry of Alaska and added:

"More than a million tons of newsprint annually, or more than one-fourth of the present requirements of the United States, can be produced in perpetuity under proper management of the growing timber stands."

"A number of west coast paper manufacturers are ready to establish industries in southeast Alaska as soon as certain technical obstacles have been eliminated."

State Per Diem Workers May Join Retirement Plan

HARRISBURG, July 2.—(INS)—State per diem employees were made eligible to join the retirement system under legislation signed today by Gov. James H. Duff.

The privilege was extended to persons whose total service amounted to at least 100 days or 750 hours a year.

Sponsored by Rep. Ira T. Floss (R) Snyder, the measure granted such employees until December 31 to join the system.

Another bill approved by Duff reduced from $12,325,000 to $9,235,000 an appropriation granted the health department in 1945 to provide additional funds for mental hospital improvements. The funds had been earmarked for improvements at State Sanatoria and the Crippled Children's hospital at Elizabeth-town.

War-time regulations governing transportation of students in school buses were extended until June 1, 1949 under a third piece of legislation which received the governor's endorsements.

Universal Pottery Will Play Conway In Semi-Final Game Tonight

Wet Grounds Force Tuesday Cancellation

Only One Game Tonight At 8:15 O'Clock; Universals Are Ready

Finals Will Start Thursday Night With Jay-Bees Playing Tonight's Winner

Forced by wet grounds to cancel the semi-final game between the Universal Pottery and Conway A. C. last night, Ralph H. Gardner, NBC deputy commissioner and tourney director, has re-scheduled the game for tonight at 8:15 o'clock at the beautiful new P. J. Flaherty Field. There will be only one game on the card tonight. The winner will clash with the Johnson Bronze Jay-Bees in the first game of the three game series for the district championship Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock. At 5:30 o'clock Thursday evening the Bessemer team will play the loser of tonight's game in the consolation.

Universals Ready
Manager "Buck" Davies of the Universals said today "We were ready to go last night, so naturally we will be all pepped up for tonight's battle, which we expect to win."

Either Peck Houston or Eddie Stewart will be on the hill for the Universals tonight, it was indicated, probably by the veteran Houston starting as Stewart hurled Monday evening. Conway will counter with either Dick Rager who beat Ambrose last Saturday or Chuck McVay who beat the Lawrence Indies in the tourney.

Expect Large Crowd
Both teams are highly confident of winning tonight and a cracker-jack ball game should result. The field is drying out nicely and so is the parking lot, Gardner announced. Unless it rains today the game is on. The winner goes into the finals.

Interest in the semi-final is at fever heat and a large crowd will no doubt, sit in on the proceedings under the lights at Flaherty Field.

EDENBURG CLUB TO HOLD MEETING
Immediately following the game tonight against the Ellwood Vets, there will be a meeting of all players and boosters of the Edenburg team in the Township building.

Anyone interested in the future of the club in the league is asked to attend the meeting.

Joe Chip Visits His Brother Here

Joe Chip, former middleweight boxer of New Castle, now a resident of Pottsville, Pa., is visiting his brother, former King of 158-pounders, George Chip, of Phillips place. Chip holds the distinction of having been the only fighter to knock out the late Harry Greb. He fought Al McCoy, who later knocked the championship off George's brow but retired after fighting Happy Littleton in New Orleans. Littleton out-weighted Joe 10 or 12 pounds.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

LUMBERIN' SAM SANTAFANTE, heavyweight of Struthers, never received such a "going over" as he received in less than six minutes of fighting with Elkins Brothers here Monday night. In fact, Elkins who weighed 30 pounds less, landed approximately 14 rights to the jaw, to two delivered by Sam, one of which hurt Brothers. The fight recalled the Dempsey-Willard fight in which the pygmy-like Jack (Dempsey) the Giant Killer cut down the Behemoth of the ring, Jess Willard. Whether Elkins will chalk up his fifth win when he battles Wayne Brooks of Cleveland at P. J. Flaherty field, July 11, remains to be learned. Having fought four foes successfully, Brothers is choosy of confidence and believes he is the cream of amateur heavyweights hereabouts. In addition to this bout, Lallo Sabotin, former Golden Gloves champion of Ohio, is matched to battle Johnny Swanton, a husky 165-pounder of Cleveland, while the main fight will find Champ vs. Champ, namely, Eddie Marotta, featherweight king of the world against National Junior Featherweight Champion Ted Pittipaldo. This bout should be the classiest battle ever staged between amateurs here because they both stand at the head of their classes.

Guy Elisco turned in a neat victory at Monaca. He stopped George Butnovich who was also kayved by Elkins Brothers. Elisco is a rugged, tough fellow who apparently eats up punches and keeps going. He is matched to box Sal Blumell, novice heavyweight champion of Youngstown. Bill Bradley also turned in a win at Pittsburgh, his opponent, being Freddy Adams of Johnstown. . . . Ross Hoover, protégé of Mickie Solomon, trainer, hopes for fistic action. . . . Jack Thompson, trainer of Ted Pittipaldo and Lallo Sabotin was a New Castle visitor yesterday. . . . Local streams were filled with bass fishermen yesterday. . . . Pity George Rigby. He went trout fishing Sunday in the Slippery Rock. He made a cast, with a worm as bait. Out went his line. Then a pause. Then out went the line again and this time George yanked it. He pulled in a big bass, a Pittsburgher who was present with a scale weighed the fish, which went five pounds and four ounces. George returned the small-mouth to the stream. "I'm going out there again but I do not suppose I'll ever catch him again" moaned Rigby. However, his story proves that there are fish that are 'fish' in the Slippery Rock creek.

Sons Of Italy Golfers In Big Event Saturday

Sylvan Heights Course Will Attract Around 150 Crack Golfers From State

COURSE IN FINE SHAPE FOR PLAY
Sylvan Heights course will be the focal point for some 150 crack golfers from all over Pennsylvania, who will compete in the first annual Sons of Italy golf tournament, Saturday.

Fred Lombardo is general chairman of the event, and is being assisted by Nick Gennock, and his aides Sam Haycock, manager at Sylvan Heights, in making the arrangements for the event.

Stars Will Perform
The course is in excellent shape for the tournament, Manager Haycock states, and some sub-par golf should result. A number of local stars are among the favorites for top honors for the tourney, as well as some of the good boys from Ellwood City, but they will have some stiff opposition from some of the visiting aces.

Last Sunday's receipts were the highest the course has ever recorded, Manager Haycock stated, and were swelled by the addition of the Tri-State Golf Association tournament, which brought a number of the leading colored aces from three states here.

Hoover Hurls Edenburg Win

Young Tiger Pitcher Pitches Well As Mates Shock Ellwood Vets, 6 To 3

EDENBURG, July 2.—Young Glenn Hoover, willowy right-hander of the Edenburg mound staff, won his first County league victory here last night as he whipped the Ellwood Vets, 6-3.

The Union high school flinger, with a whiplash curve and a hopping fast ball, scattered eight Vet hits in veteran fashion. He was lifted in the sixth with Bayus hurling the last inning.

The Tigers went to work on the offerings of Gerlach early in the contest, getting there big runs in the second frame. Emery Miloser finished. The Tigers reaped 12 safeties in the fray with Jess Kopp getting a single, double and triple.

Pete Ceratti started for the "Hot Tops" with Bob Clerici coming to the hill in the third.

The game will be re-scheduled at a later date.

Braves Crushed By Giants 15-3

Five New Yorkers Hit
Homers, St. Louis Cards
Edge Pirates 2 To 1

By LOU GARAVENTE
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, July 2.—The major league home run record, that proud citadel sculptured by home-run hammering New York Yankee bats in 1936 trembled visibly today following a devastating assault by the booming bats of New York Giant sluggers.

Eleven years ago, a powerful Yankee team juggernauted to the first of four consecutive pennants on the strength of a record-establishing 182 four baggers. These were the fence-busting days of Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio (a rookie), Bill Dickey, Tony Lazzeri, George Selkirk, Frank Crosetti, and Red Rolfe. Until this 1947 season no team ever had conscripted a more robust hitting troupe.

Braves Crushed
But this season, the Giants have banded together a powerful, and up to now an almost unstoppable home run hitting aggregation. Last night, five Giants rocked three Boston pitchers for home runs in a 16 hit barrage that netted a 15-to-3 triumph over the league leaders.

Johnny Mize (21), Willard Marshall (17), Walker Cooper (17), Bobby Thomson (10), and Buddy Kerr hit for the circuit, each time with a man on base.

Dodgers Flub One
In another National League scuffle, the second place Brooklyn Dodgers flubbed an opportunity to gain the senior loop top rung. The Philadelphia Phillies organized a five run rally in the sixth inning to defeat the Brooks 5 to 3.

The quietly efficient fourth place St. Louis Cardinals edged the cellar-dwelling Pittsburgh Pirates 2 to 1 on Erv Dusak's ninth inning home run off Ed Lopat to win 2 to 1 over the Chicago White Sox.

Tigers-Indians Win
In the American League, the Detroit Tigers, behind the three-hit pitching of Al Benton, scored an unearned run in the eighth inning off Ed Lopat to win 2 to 1 over the Chicago White Sox.

The Cleveland Indians defeated the St. Louis Browns 9 to 3, but their fireballing ace, Bob Feller was forced to retire in the second inning because of a pulled muscle in his back.

The other four clubs in the league were not scheduled.

Zanish Refuses

"Go" With Bradley

Tony Zanish who defeated Johnny Randall, Monday night, refused through Manager Palumbo of Sharon, to box Bill Bradley here July 11, stating that he hoped to box in Sharon that night. The Sharon club has made application for a license to conduct amateur boxing bouts in Sharon.

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—(INS)—Four backfield alumni of the University of Southern California were added to the 1947 roster of the Los Angeles Rams today.

The four all veterans of the National Pro League, are Jim Hardy, Jack Banta, Pat West and Mel Bleeker. The first three were stand-out with the Rams last year. Bleeker was bugged from the Philadelphia Eagles in a trade involving guard art mergenthal.

Expects Kilbane, Chip At Battles

Johnny Kilbane, former feather-weight champion of the world, who fought Young Zahner in his first fight in the now-gone Coliseum and Battling Terry in his next "go" here, is expected to attend the Marotta vs. Pittipalio bout here July 11. Kilbane might be termed a product of local pugilism, having been developed by Jimmie Dunn. George Chip, ex-middleweight champ, is expected to be present, thus adding color to the affair.

Pitcher Kirby Higbe of the Pirates chalked up his 100th win of his major league career last Sunday by beating the Chicago Cubs 10-4.

No Big Catches Of Bass Reported

HARRISBURG, July 2.—(INS)—State Fish Commissioner Charles A. French reported today that the opening of the bass season in Western Pennsylvania resulted in only a "fair" catch.
French said oppressive heat throughout the area held the catch to a low point, particularly in the southwestern district.
He added, however, that bass fishermen can hope for a "good season" as the summer goes along. Western Pennsylvania streams are in very good shape he said and if heavy rains hold off, bass fans can expect one of the best catches in recent years.

HOLLYWOOD, July 2.—(INS)—

Humphrey Bogart is planning a consolation cruise for the amateur crew of his schooner which missed the Honolulu race.

They'll take off as soon as Bogey completes "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre" for Warners. It was this picture which prevented Bogey from entering his boat, the Santana in the race which starts at nearby San Pedro on Friday.

Said Bogey: "It was so late when I had to cancel my entry that the seven members of my crew didn't have a chance to sign on other boats."

"That's why I'm planning this cruise. It won't be the same as being in the race, but it'll be something."

"We'll probably be gone about two weeks or so. We'll cruise off the Mexican coast."

Bogey was as disappointed as anyone else because the picture hasn't finished in time for him to enter the race. Among other reasons, he spent $18,000 on new sails and other special equipment.

But, as far as Bogey is concerned the consolation cruise will have one advantage over the race.

His wife, Lauren Bacall, will go along as a passenger. Passengers are barred in the Honolulu race.

On the subject of husbands and wives, Patricia Medina is very eager to do a stage play with her handsome mate, Richard Greene.

She expects to have time for the venture after she completes the role in "The Foxes of Harrow" at 20th Century-Fox.

She has the play all picked out, too—"The Taming of the Shrew."

Now that warm weather has arrived, the cast of "Tap Roots" is getting the best break.

They're working on a set built on the top of the 300-foot hill in back of Universal-International. Up there, you catch every vagrant breeze, so Susan Hayward, Van Heflin, Ward Bond and others aren't complaining as the temperature rises.

Duff also affixed his signature to legislation sponsored by Sen. Weldon B. Heyburn (R-Delaware, to retain state control of oleomargarine retailing.

Margarine Fees

The bill retained $2 retail fees on margarine to finance policing costs and imposed restrictions on coloring. Retailers were required to register sales with the agriculture department. The legislation stemmed from a state supreme court decision nullifying 45-year-old $500 wholesaler and $100 retailer license fees.

Farm and labor groups objected to the legislation on grounds that the restrictions were discriminatory. The program for providing new local revenues was hailed by Duff as a step toward halting centralization of government.

Duff labeled the legislation a "landmark in taxation in Pennsylvania" and claimed the tax base broadener would relieve the burden on real estate.

Duff said the act would halt incessant demands for state aid. The program interlocked with the teacher pay plan pending before Duff.

Separate legislation signed earlier by the chief executive authorized the Pittsburgh school district to levy a $1 to $5 per capita tax and empowered the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia districts to impose personal property and mercantile levies.

Greater revenues were provided second class townships in a $10,000,000 gasoline tax allocation. A similar amount went to cities, boroughs and first class townships.

Russia is a land of shortages—tennis rackets, for instance. Writing in the Communist youth newspaper, "Komsomolskaya Pravda", tennis fan V. Kollegorsky complained that in Kiev (pop. 845,000) there were only twenty-two rackets; in Stalingrad (pop. 445,000), none. Said the Soviet commissar in charge of tennis racket manufacture: "Production is too complicated."

Local Governments Empowered To Levy Taxes On Almost Unlimited Sources

HARRISBURG, July 2.—(INS)—Most local governments were granted vast new tax sources Tuesday by Gov. James H. Duff who signed enabling legislation deemed the most far-reaching achievement of the 1947 legislative session.

The measure, co-sponsored by Republican Reps. William J. Stonier, Lackawanna and Charles H. Brunner, Montgomery, was an integral part of Duff's program to help political subdivisions to meet increased operating costs, become more self-sustaining and shoulder a heavier share of the education financing burden. Duff has termed the measure the "highlight" of the session.

The revenue raiser empowered cities except Philadelphia, boroughs, first class townships and school districts except those of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to tax virtually unlimited revenue sources. The local governments were authorized to levy taxes on sales of amusements, property and all items subject to
